Improvement of customer services in Banks

1555. SHRI B.K. HARIPRASAD: Will the Minister of FINANCE be pleased to state:

(a) whether to improve customer services in Public Sector Banks, the RBI has constituted Banking Codes and Standards Board of India and if so, how many Public Sector Banks have signed the charter so far with the BCSBI;

(b) whether it will be mandatory to all constituents of Indian Banks Association to subscribed to this charter;

(c) whether the functions for the BCSBI will overlap with that of the Office of Banking Ombudsman Scheme; and

(d) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE (SHRI PAWAN KUMAR BANSAL): (a) Yes, Sir. The Banking Codes and Standards Board of India (BCSBI) has been set up by Reserve Bank of India (RBI) for improving the quality of customer service in banks BCSBI has been registered as a Society. As on date, 24 Public Sector Banks including State Bank of India have been registered with BCSBI.

(b) No, Sir. Opting for the Code is voluntary.

(c) and (d) No, Sir. The Banking Ombudsman is a grievance redressal mechanism to attend to individual customer complaints relating to deficiences in banking services. On the other hand, the BCSBI is an industry watchdog to oversee compliance with the Code. It is not redressal mechanism and will look into an individual complaint only to the extent it points to any systemic failure in compliance with the Code.
